

A Minor. James Abbott, 1796.

Jeremiah Ingalls, 1805 (abridged, alto by R. W. Hall).

Millions of years may roll away, Our bliss shall still remain; Our bliss is one e - ter-nal day, It knows

Millions of years may roll away, Our bliss shall still remain; Our bliss is one e - ter-nal day, It knows not blot nor stain,

not blot nor stain, Our bliss is one e - ter - nal day, It knows not blot nor stain. 1. 2.

knows not blot nor stain, Our bliss is one e - ter-nal day, It knows not blot nor stain. 1. 2.

blot nor stain, Our bliss is one e - ter-nal day, It knows not blot nor stain, It knows not blot nor stain. 1. 2.

Our bliss is one e - ter-nal day, It knows not blot nor stain, It knows not blot nor stain. 1. 2.