

YE OBJECTS OF SENSE. 11, 8.

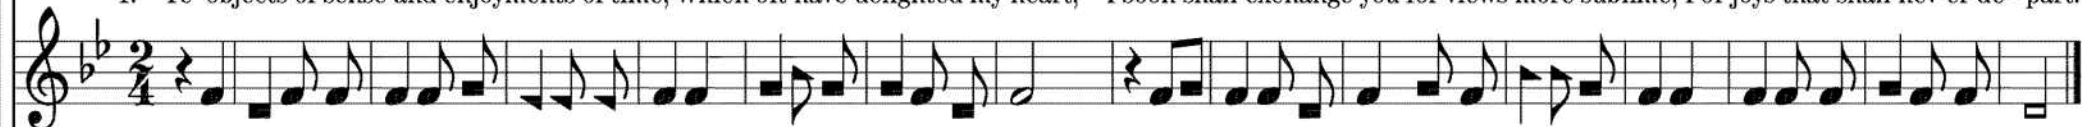

444

Bb Major. Benjamin Francis, 1795.

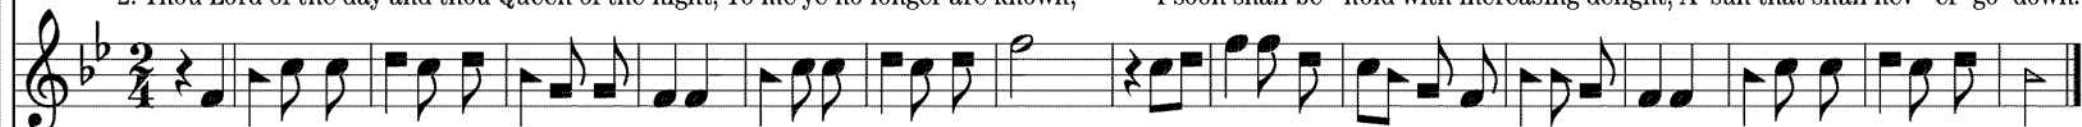

Arr. Hoboken, Ga. singers & D. L. Hunter, 2012.

1. Ye objects of sense and enjoyments of time, Which oft have delighted my heart; I soon shall exchange you for views more sublime, For joys that shall nev-er de - part.

2. Thou Lord of the day and thou Queen of the night, To me ye no longer are known, I soon shall be - hold with increasing delight, A sun that shall nev - er go down.

3. Ye wonderful orbs that as-tonish my eyes Your glories recede from my sight, I soon shall contemplate more beautiful skies, And stars more resplendently bright.
